

Terms of Use, Privacy Policy and Legal Disclaimer

Your use of and access to this site is subject to DrLullaby, LLC ("DrLullaby") Information and Protection of Privacy Policy.

This Privacy Policy applies to information collected online from users of this website. This policy details what kind of information we collect, when and how we use that information, and the choices you have with respect to how you choose to share your personal information.

We cannot ensure or warrant the security of any information you transmit to DrLullaby. This is especially true for information you transmit to us via e-mail, contact form, or when requesting an appointment online as we have no way of protecting that information until it reaches us. Appointment requests and contact forms are transmitted to us by email when you submit them. The use of emails is not a secure medium, email is vulnerable to interception or forgery and privacy cannot be ensured. DrLullaby will not be responsible for any damages you may suffer as a result of the transmission of confidential information that you make to us via email, if transmission errors occur or the correspondence is intercepted. All information submitted to DrLullaby via the site, or that you expressly or implicitly authorize DrLullaby to use, shall be deemed and remain the property of DrLullaby.

In addition, we limit employees and contractors' access to personal information. Only those employees and contractors with a business reason to know, have access to this information. We educate our employees/contractors about the importance of maintaining confidentiality of patient information.

Messages sent via the Internet and email can be intercepted. If you are concerned about sending your personal information to us via the Internet or Email, other methods such as, phone call or regular mail are alternate avenues of communication. Please, we do not recommend sending personal information that could be communicated through a phone call or in person visit. Any such person information is communicated at your risk of interception.

Legal Disclaimer:

The opinions expressed by DrLullaby patients, staff, clients or contractors are theirs alone, and do not reflect the opinions of DrLullaby. DrLullaby is not responsible for the accuracy of the information supplied by its patients, staff, clients, or contractors. The information provided to users on this site is intended for informational use only and cannot be used as a substitute for a professional physician opinion. If medical information is required, the information provided on this site will not be sufficient to negate the need for a doctor's visit.

User-Supplied Information through Web Forms

The use of website forms as a means of contact grants us the permission to capture the information you provide, and use it to respond to your comments, requests, and inquiries. This information is maintained for future communications and is not provided to any other organization or entity. This site does not automatically gather any personal information from you unless you provide it to us voluntarily by contacting us via e-mail, or by completing and submitting any online form. By filling out the contact form on this website, you will be asked to provide some personal information. Information requested includes but is not limited to name, phone number, email address and any personal health related concerns. You must limit personal information and details provided with the knowledge that details can be communicated to us subsequently when we get back to you. Remember, personal information transmitted can be interrupted when it is sent via email. Providing details including any personal health condition is not recommended as that information can be communicated later to us over the phone or in person. Providing any information to DrLullaby is voluntary. Submitting voluntary information constitutes your consent to the use of the information for the stated purpose. In the case of website forms, you grant consent for the use of your information by DrLullaby by clicking the "Submit" button. If you do not accept the Terms of Use do not click the "Submit" button. There are other means of contact available including phone, fax, and regular mail.

The information you provide to us will be used so that we may respond to your comments, requests, and inquiries. We may also use the information you provide to us to communicate with you in the future.

DrLullaby does NOT collect personal information for commercial marketing or distribution to any private organizations.

All of the information submitted to DrLullaby shall be deemed and remain the property of the practice, and the practice shall be free to use, for any purpose, any ideas, concepts, know-how or other techniques contained in information provided to DrLullaby or sent through email.

When you send us an electronic message, you may be sending personal information. In these cases, we may retain the information not only to respond to your request, but also as a record of correspondence. Messages sent via email can be intercepted. If you are concerned about sending your personal information to us via the Internet DO NOT click the "Submit" button, you always have the option of using phone, email or regular mail to contact us.

Use of Cookies:

A small number of programs on our web pages use session cookies. Cookies are used for your convenience to maintain "state" between pages and to coordinate search results from multiple programs within a session. These cookies disappear from your machine (expire) after your session ends. DrLullaby does not maintain a historical database of cookies, nor does it use any other tracking method to profile patients.
